ecommendation of the work: STATUTES OF INDIANA, BY GAVIN & HORD,-Some months ago, the above named gentlemen issued proposals for pubtions. The first volume of the work is now published; and the manner of its execution, both mechanically and editorially, deserves the thanks of the profession. The imperfect manner of publishing our statutes under State authority, has always been a source of great inconrenfence to the Indiana Lawyer. The revision of 1852, as well as the statutes passed since that year, might almost aswell have been published without any index. Up to thistime the lawyer has constantly been under the necessity of turning over, leaf by leaf, the volumes o our statutes to find any particular enactment. And every one knows how annoying and provoking this is, especially in IN IC W NE A C DE IN IC the hurry of business as in our Courts. Happily for the profession, the publication under consideration promises a better state of things in the future. The first volume o Messrs. Gavin & Hord's work contains an excellent and opious index, which to every practicing lawyer in the tate is itself worth the money which the volume costs. The volume under review contains another excellence litts pages are supplied with valuable marginal indices, to that a giance at the margin is sufficient to apprise the eader of the contents of the page. islation since 1851. Heretofore, the lawyer in examining our legislation on any given subject had first to find what was relevant to it in the Revision of 1852, and then to turn over the pages of the volumes of subsequent Statutes, to see how far recent legislation may have repealed or mod fied the provisions contained in that Revision, and even then he would often feel doubt whether he had found all Depot, on Illinois street. the legislation on the subject of his inquiry. Messrs. Gavin and Hord have relieved us of all this trouble and doubt. They have collected together in consecutive pages all the statutes made since 1851, on the same subject. Thus, on pages 373 to 377 of their first volume they have collected all our legislation, now in force, on the subject o ____ husband and wife, including the act of 1852 and three act of 1857. And they have followed the same mode o co-

ocation, in appropriate consecutive pages, in regard to all other topics of legislation. A still more valuable feature are the copious and accurare notes contained in the volume in question. This volume includes the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of Indiana, and several important acts of Vir. | WALNUT ST., BETWEEN SIXTH AND SEVENTH. ginia and statutes of Congress, and a large portion o our own statutes now in force. The numerous decisions o the Courts on the various provisions contained in these Constis and references. Messrs, Gavin & Hord seem to have performed this part of their work exceedingly well. It must have cost them much care and labor. By it they have greetly lessened the labor of the practising lawyer, and have well merited his grateful approval. In every respect the volume under review is highly reditable to the dilligence, accuracy, talents and the taste of its editors, as well as to the mechanical skill and neatness of its publishers, and it must raise the just expectation of the profession, as to the value of the second volume, which we understand will be forthcoming in a few months, and 1852, with subsequent amendments and other statutes.

which will contain the code of pleading and practice o Without any concert with the editors or publishers of the volume in question, the writer of this article has been induced to compose and publish this little review of the book, solely because he believes the editors and publishers deserve high commendation for their performance.
